THE EVE DREAM…

Genesis3:1-6

The serpent smiled and quietly said, “Do let me in:
Once in your thought I’ll get under your skin!
We can be good friends, just trust what I say -
You’re free to choose: Let me show you the way.
Just listen, it’s simple, - temptation’s no trick:
In less than a second my nice thought will stick!
All you need do is just talk here with me,
I’ll tell you the truth about every tree.
I know what you want, - to be as a god, -
To be much more than just raised from the sod.
The God that you love has sold you quite short:
Just simply trust me to win my support.
Yes, do as I say, - the apple do eat:
You will find it delicious, - an absolute treat!
Adam and you will become very wise,
Just the one mouthful will open your eyes!

I spared him a thought, what he said seemed quite true:
It took just the one and his lies then poured through!
I did not know, but from then I was trapped,
And with his false pictures utterly wrapped!
The serpent had called, I answered as Eve:
I was caught in a dream I shouldn’t believe.

That little word “Just”, - temptation’s best friend.
Don’t be fooled! Don’t listen. Don’t dare descend!
Suggesting that sin is easy to do
Sets you wholly against all that is true!
The Eve dream is false, for we cannot fall
When God is quite simply our All-in-all.
We can’t be tempted, and error can’t win:
The answer is simple. Don’t be took in!

When faced with a lie, dismiss as untrue!
Man is unfallen! SO, SIMPLY, BE YOU!

©Ken Cooper November 2021